

Every train has a moveTrain module that allows it to move along the segments of the railway.